1 This Portland landmark is also the world's largest new and used bookstore. Covering an entire city block, POWELL'S CITY OF BOOKS is more than a great bookstore: It's a microcosm of Portland, packed with smart and eclectic offerings, passionate people and, naturally, its own coffee shop. And, just like Portland, it's open 365 days a year! In addition to the flagship store downtown which contains more than 1.5 million books in 3,500 different sections, Powell's also has shops on SE Hawthorne Boulevard, in neighboring Beaverton and at Portland International Airport.

2 Operating since 1974, the PORTLAND SATURDAY MARKET is the largest continually operating outdoor arts and crafts market in the nation. Located in Waterfront Park in Portland's historic Old Town, the Market is one of the most popular shopping destinations for local handcrafted goods. The Market offers a unique opportunity for customers to meet the artist as well as see one of a kind pieces created in the artist's booth. Over 250 small businesses and individual artists from across the NW region gather each week for the Saturday/Sunday event (March through Christmas Eve) with live music and a plethora of exotic foods that will satisfy everyone's appetite.

3 Portland's INTERNATIONAL ROSE TEST GARDEN is the oldest official continuously operated public rose test garden in the United States. Unofficially known as the Portland Rose Garden, the space features more than 10,000 roses. Hundreds of thousands of visitors from around the world enjoy its sights and scents year-round. The garden also offers spectacular views of downtown and Mount Hood. Best blooms are April through October and always free of charge.

After admiring the Rose Garden, head across the street, and above to the majestic 4 PORTLAND JAPANESE GARDEN for more fabulous fauna. Proclaimed one of the most authentic Japanese gardens outside of Japan, the 5.5-acre (2.2 ha) space includes an authentic Japanese tea house, meandering streams, intimate walkways. Guided tours are included with cost of admission, and the garden also hosts frequent events.

4 A year-round wonder, the LAN SU CHINESE GARDEN is an authentic Ming Dynasty style garden, built by Suzhou artisans, that takes up an entire block of the city's historic Chinatown district. Since the garden's opening in 2000, its covered walkways, bridges, open colonnades, pavilions and richly planted landscape framing the man-made Zither Lake have created an urban oasis of tranquil beauty and harmony. It's an inspiring, serene setting for meditation, quiet thought and tea served at The Tao of Tea in the Tower of Cosmic Reflections, as well as public tours of the grounds led by expert horticulturalists. 🧑🏻‍🦲 🧑🏻‍🦲 🚶🏻‍♂️ 🚶🏻‍♀️

5 The largest art museum in Oregon and one of the oldest in the country, the PORTLAND ART MUSEUM was organized in 1892, and its first exhibition was a set of magnificent plaster casts of Greek and Roman sculpture, displayed in the upper hall of the city's library. Those casts still dot the museum, a reminder of how the museum — and Western art — began. Belluschi's original design was ahead of its time. It was airy and admitted natural light into the museum's galleries, especially the court beyond the entryway, and the visitor today experiences that grand space as a sort of surprise, given the museum's relative scale. 🧑🏻‍🦲 🧑🏻‍🦲 🚶🏻‍♂️ 🚶🏻‍♀️
